

Bigfoot Museum

Yay! Another Bigfoot Museum opens to the public!

Silverton, Colorado has had its share of Bigfoot sightings and so it seems appropriate that a Bigfoot museum should open there this month.

The Legend of Bigfoot Museum and Gallery opened Friday, May 1st, 2009 and was created by Rick and Gayle Lewis of Kanab, Utah.

There have been approximately eight documented Bigfoot sightings near Silverton over the past decade. Could the San Juan Mountains provide excellent habitat to maintain a stable Bigfoot population?

February 2009 is said to have had the region's latest Bigfoot report near a resort in Durango. Bigfoot sightings are said to have gone back to the 1840's with local miners. Bigfoot Museum Million Dollar Contest!

The Bigfoot museum will seek to introduce people to Bigfoot, the evidence and what they likely eat and how they could exist. This sounds like a real Bigfoot museum of education based upon the latest theories.

The new museum will try to improve our understanding of Bigfoot, while tying the Woolly Buzzer into the history of Silverton.

In the spirit of the new Bigfoot Museum, we would like to share the following Bigfoot pictures sent to Our Bigfoot. Could they be museum-worthy evidence for the museum-minded Bigfoot seeker? Take a peek at the following Bigfoot Pictures and decide for yourself...

Left:

Recently we received this close-up photograph of a Bigfoot from a person who wishes to remain anonymous.

He (or she) believes it to be the best known facial capture of a Bigfoot. We may argue that one. Is it museum quality or not? It could work well for educational purposes. This Woolly Buzzer buck looks to be about 45 years old and is displaying a full beard.

Below Left:

The next Bigfoot museum photo which we should offer was also sent to us anonymously, even though it claims to have been taken near Silverton:

"My wife and I were driving on May 19th, en-route to Silverton, CO on hwy. 550 from Durango, CO. - approx. 14 miles from town.

Out of the corner of our eyes we noticed an animal moving off the side of the road to our right, and my wife snapped this photo as we were passing by.

This website is intended for entertainment purposes only. Hope you enjoyed your visit! A Big thanks to KW Reinsch of Flickr for the Bigfoot Museum statue image.

Bigfoot Museum Copyright 2006-2009 OurBigfoot.com

We thought it was a bear, but the local Forest Service Agent we showed our picture to said, 'That ain't no bear you saw. Bears don't walk on two legs.'

Not positive what it was, but believe it could be something you and your readers are interested in."